Mrs. Calfee Helps All Students Plan for the Future

It was business as usual for Nodaway-Holt rootEd Advisor Stacey Calfee when she recently took students on a local industry tour. What was unusual was the group of students she took were eighth-graders. Mrs. Calfee supervised the students on Nodaway County's Manufacturing Day, which included trips to Barnard Processing, J.L. Houston, NUCOR, and Maryville Public Works (pictured above) among others. The event is intended to introduce students to the career opportunities available close to home. In addition to Manufacturing Day, Mrs. Calfee has met with every senior about their postsecondary plans and has personally taken many on college campus tours. She's also preparing for an FSA ID creation night with NWMSU Representative Sandy Francis on November 13 to help families get started with the FAFSA process.
